

DANA PREFERRED INCOME STRATEGY

QUARTERLY Fact Sheet

As of December 31, 2025

INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

We believe that a well-diversified investment portfolio should contain a high quality income-oriented Strategy, and repeatable and predictable results make it easier to grow cumulative wealth. Dana therefore applies a uniform investment process to improve consistency of returns and reduce volatility.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

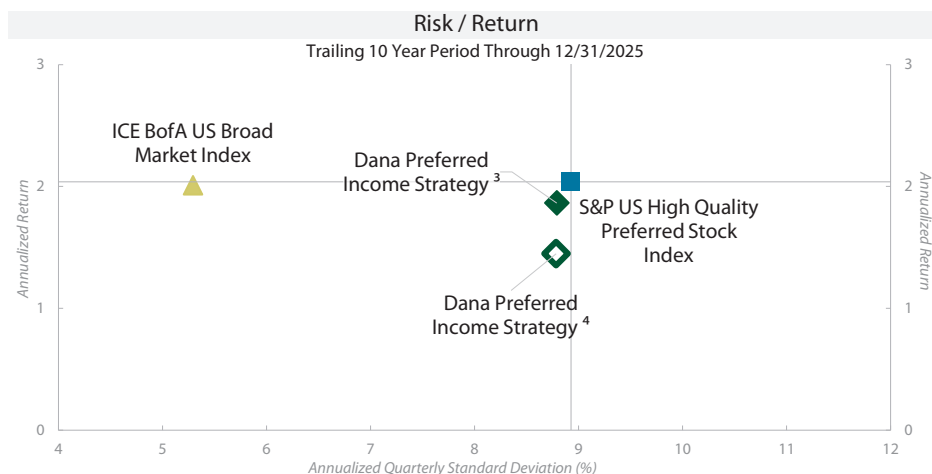

The Dana Preferred Income Strategy produces an actively managed portfolio of preferred stock securities that provide attractive yields while maintaining investment grade credit quality and lower overall duration than comparable noncallable (i.e. perpetual) preferred stock securities.

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

The Dana Preferred Income Strategy utilizes fixed and variable rate preferred stock securities. We emphasize the use of preferred securities with short to intermediate call dates as they often have a higher yield than government and corporate bonds with similar or longer duration, while at the same time help to increase the diversification of a client's portfolio due to their lower correlation to traditional equity and fixed income investments. We believe utilizing these securities will allow us to achieve our clients' investment objectives through a more efficient portfolio structure.

Dana's current standard annual Preferred Income fee schedule is 0.45% on the first $3MM, 0.40% on the next $7MM, and 0.35% thereafter; however, Dana's investment management fees may vary based upon the differences in size, composition and servicing needs of client accounts. Policies for valuing portfolios, calculating performance and preparing compliant presentations are available upon request.
 - Standard Deviation: The 36-month annualized standard deviation measures the variability of the monthly net-of-fees composite and the benchmark monthly returns for the period.
 - Internal Dispersion: Dispersion is calculated using the equal-weighted standard deviation of annual net returns of those portfolios that were included in the composite for the entire year.
- Past performance is not indicative of future results.
